

Anglo-Israeli Symposium Future Directions in Cardiology

Dan Caesarea Hotel, Israel ■ October 20, 2009

Preliminary Program www.isas.co.il/uk-il_cardio2009

Dan Caesarea Hotel

08:00-08:30 Registration

08:30-09:30 Session 1

Chairman

Prof. Dani Aravot, Israel

The effect of metabolic surgery on cardiovascular function

Mr. Thanos Alhanasiou, UK

Smoke gets in your heart

Dr. Nicholas A. Boon, UK

Transcatheter aortic valve implantation

Dr. Stephen J. Brecker, UK

09:30-10:00 Coffee break

10:00-12:00 Session 2

Chairman

Prof. David Cumberland, UK

Coronary calcium scoring and CT angiography. Where do they fit in the cardiac imaging armoury?

Dr. Duncan Dymond, UK

Adult congenital heart disease: A new challenge and opportunity for cardiovascular medicine

Prof. Michael Gatzoulis, UK

The spectrum of coronary atherosclerosis in asymptomatic diabetics and its relation to risk assessment

Prof. David Halon, Israel

New Horizons

Prof. David Hasdai, Israel

Approach to chest pain in the emergency room - Update

Dr. Basheer Karkabi, UK

Atrial fibrillation? Old and new?

Device therapy in prevention of sudden death

Prof. Amos Katz, Israel

Prof. Philip Poole-Wilson
Memorial Lecture

Prof. Basil Lewis, Israel

12:00-13:30 Lunch

13:30-15:30 Session 3

Chairman: TBA

Blalock, Brock and "Others":
The early years 1940-1950

Mr. Christopher Lincoln, UK

Percutaneous aortic valve replacement: The new frontier

Prof. Chaim Lotan, Israel

Percutaneous cardiac intervention in 2020: What on earth will we be doing?

Dr. Michael S. Norell, UK

The expanding role of CMR in non-ischaemic cardiomyopathies

Dr. Rory O'Hanlon, UK

Sudden cardiac death: Why pathology is so important

Dr. Mary Sheppard, UK

3D echocardiography – what can it do for you?

Dr. Avinoam Shiran, Israel

Treatment of HOCM: Knife or poison?

Prof. Ulrich Sigwart,
Switzerland

15:30-16:30 Closing Session
Chairman

Dr. Romeo Vecht, UK and Israel

Physiological approach to the leaking mitral valve & the tricuspid valve. Always the bridesmaid, never the bride!

Mr. Frank Wells, UK

Closing remarks

Dr. Romeo Vecht,
UK and Israel

