

ACC.11 & i2 Summit
provide a global perspective on cardiovascular care.

HERE IS JUST A SAMPLING OF WHAT YOU WILL FIND AT ACC.11 & i2 SUMMIT:

- Focused Learning Pathways. Education in 11 clinical areas offering education for every interest, whether you want to focus on one area or sample from an array of pathways.
- The 3rd Annual International Cardiovascular Conference: Focus on the Middle East. Explore advances made in diagnosis, treatment and management of cardiovascular disease with a focus on how these are applied in the context of physician practice in the Middle East.
- International Lunchtime Symposia. Meet and share ideas with respected cardiology leaders from around the world during one of the 17 jointly sponsored lunchtime symposia.
- The 2011 Maseri-Florio International Lecture. Established to recognize the accomplishments of outstanding investigators in cardiology who possess a global perspective. This year, the ACC is honored to have Dr. Eugene Chazov, M.D., Ph.D., of Russia present the International Lecture, entitled "Development of New Cardiovascular Drugs Based on the Latest Findings of Human Protection System Studies". Dr. Chazov is recognized worldwide for his leadership during the Cold War as part of International Physicians for the Prevention of Nuclear War, and as a co-winner of the 1985 Nobel Peace Prize. Currently, Dr. Chazov serves as the honorary president of the Society of Cardiology of the Russian Federation.

- International Sessions. An array of additional sessions with a global focus on cardiovascular care. Don't miss out on two joint sessions with the European Society of Cardiology, Dr. Valentin Fuster, M.D., Ph.D., M.A.C.C. at the La Sociedad Espanola de Cardiologia session, a joint session with the Italian Federation of Cardiology and more!
- International Service Award. Presented at convocation to an individual who has demonstrated a commitment to medically developing or underdeveloped countries, and, through his/her benevolent actions, has provided a specific service to enhance cardiovascular care and education in these countries.
- All Chapter Reception. Members of ACC International chapters can socialize, as well as make new connections with Fellows from across the United States and several other countries.
- The International Lounge. The lounge is open for all attendees practicing outside the United States, offering the opportunity to network with colleagues, learn about the multitude of international ACC initiatives and partnerships and find information regarding international membership in the ACC.
