And the patient?

- The patient improved clinically and hemodynamically.
- 5 days in CCU, and then transferred to the ward.
- 3 weeks after the procedure, fever, sepsis, septic shock, multiorgan failure, and died 4 weeks after the TAVI.

Take home message:

- When you have a valve migration, don't give up high implantation on the next attempts.
- Don't retrieve the valve in the sheath. A full deployment should be done in a meticulous manner as usual
- When you take out the delivery system, make sure it is fully free of any connection to the valve. It might cheat you...

And last but not least: Don't count your money while you're still walking down the stairs...
